6. LIST OF SPECIFIC LABOR RIGHTS OF VICTIMS OF GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE OR SEXUAL VIOLENCE

At the time of writing this guide, the specific employment rights applicable at IRBLLleida are the following:

6.1. Rearrangement of working time

Legally included in article 37.8 of the Consolidated Text of the Workers' Statute Law, approved by Royal Legislative Decree 2/2015, of October 23 (hereinafter ET). Victims of gender violence or sexual violence or sexual violence are recognized the right to:

- The reduction of the working day, with a proportional decrease in salary.
- The reorganization of working time, through:
 - The adaptation of the schedule.
 - Application of flexible hours or other forms of organization of working time that are applied in the organization.

The measures provided for the above purposes may be, among others, flexibility in the hours of entry and exit or the choice of the work shift.

With the measures that appear in this point, it is intended to help the victims so that their aggressors cannot locate them through flexibility in setting the schedules, while allowing attention to their family needs. These measures contribute to increasing the safety of the victims and reduce the risk of aggression in the place, proximity or on the way to the workplace.

The realization of the reorganization of working time in any of the aforementioned measures, as well as the reduction of working hours, will correspond to the victim worker; although these measures will be applied making them compatible with the organizational and productive needs of the research center.

The reduction in working hours will be up to 50% of the ordinary working day and during the first three months it will be applied without a reduction in salary. Likewise, as stated in the preamble II, article 19 and article 22 of Law 17/2022, of September 5, which modifies Law 14/2011, of June 1, on Science, the Technology and Innovation, the periods of time dedicated to enjoying part-time leave for gender violence during the duration of the contract will give rise to the extension of the contract for the time equivalent to the working day that has been reduced.

6.2. remote work

Victims will have the right to carry out their work totally or partially remotely or to stop doing so if this were the established system , provided that this modality of provision of services is compatible with the position and functions carried out. Victim workers will enjoy preference for its application, under the terms provided in the agreements on remote work, if any, applicable in the organization.

6.3. Geographical mobility

Article 40.4 of the ET establishes that workers considered victims of gender violence or sexual violence who are forced to leave their job, to give effect to their protection or their right to comprehensive social assistance, will have preferential right to occupy another job position, from the same professional group or equivalent category, that the organization has a vacancy in any other of its work centers. IRBLleida only has one work center, so it is impossible to cover this right. However, for those people who at the time of the communication of the situation of gender violence or sexual violence enjoy a scholarship/contract financed by public or private entities for the performance of their activity, the center will urge the financing organizations to assess the possibility of developing said activity in other research centers with characteristics equivalent to those indicated in the call for the grant/contract. It should be noted that there is a legal vacuum at this level in public calls for the performance of research/support activity in research centers. In case of acceptance of geographical mobility by the funder , an attempt will be made to ensure that the characteristics of the displacement are adapted to those contained in Organic Law 1/2004 of December 28.

6.4. Justification of absences and/or lack of punctuality

Absences or lack of punctuality to work motivated by the physical or psychological situation derived from gender violence sexual violence, accredited by the social or health services as appropriate, will be considered justified.

Victims frequently need to be absent from work to attend to the particular needs derived from their situation. Said absences will be considered justified, and therefore, lack of attendance and punctuality motivated by their situation as a victim of gender violence or sexual violence cannot be penalized.

To ensure the above, the victim must:

- Notify absences in advance and, if this is not possible due to the nature of the cause of the absence, as soon as possible.
- Documentary justification of absences through reports issued by the previously mentioned services.

Likewise, the absences necessary to attend judicial proceedings motivated by the situation of victim will be considered paid leave.

6.5. Suspension of employment contract

Right legally included in article 45.1.n of the ET. The employment contract may be suspended by decision of the worker who is forced to leave his job as a result of being a victim of gender violence or sexual violence. Likewise, as stated in the preamble II, article 19 and article 22 of Law 17/2022, of September 5, which modifies Law 14/2011, of June 1, on Science, the Technology and Innovation, the periods of time dedicated to the enjoyment of full-time leave by gender violence during the duration of the contract they will interrupt the calculation of the duration of the contract.

In accordance with article 48.8 of the ET, the period of suspension will have an initial duration that may not exceed six months, unless the judicial protection proceedings result in the effectiveness of the victim's right to protection requiring the continuity of the suspension. In this case, the judge may extend the suspension for periods of three months, with a maximum of eighteen months.

In accordance with current regulations, the period of suspension and contribution made during it will count as the effective contribution period for the purpose of requesting Social Security benefits, such as unemployment, retirement, permanent disability, death or survival, maternity and care of minors affected by cancer or other serious illness.

Right legally included in article 49.1.m of the ET. The legal regulations allow the employment relationship to be terminated by decision of the worker who is the victim of gender violence or sexual violence, provided that they need to leave their job due to said condition.

In order to facilitate this option, the worker who is a victim of gender violence or sexual violence may request voluntary leave from the organization, with the right to unemployment benefits, provided they meet the legal requirements established for it, under the following conditions:
